CURRICULUM VITAE OF ÁGOSTON REGULY

Date of birth: 22. 12. 1990, Budapest
Address: Hungary, 2013 Pomáz, Nagy László u. 3/b
Phone number: +36 30 630 9102
e-mail: regulyagoston@gmail.com

Education

2016-present: Central European University, Budapest, Ph.D. in Economics

Topics: Machine learning and causality (Heterogeneous treatment effects in regression discontinuity designs)

Modelling with survey data – problems and how to fix with proper survey design: one joint paper on survey data used as covariates and one paper on these data used as a dependent variable.

2012-2015: MA in Economic Analysis at BME[1]

Graduated with Cum Laude, ECTS weighted average: 4.65/5; ECTS: 162 of 120

Thesis: Macroeconometric Modelling of Inflation, Wages and Money Supply: Implementing David F. Hendry's reduction theory to the Hungarian Economy between 1995 and 2014

2012. Sept – 2013. Feb: ERASMUS scholarship in Germany – Otto-Friedrich Universität Bamberg, focusing on behavioral economics

2009-2012: BA in Management and Business Administration at BME

Graduated with excellent degree, ECTS weighted average 4.02/5; ECTS: 256 of 210

Thesis: Behavioral models of pension systems - also published in Forum Scientiarum Oeconomicarum[2], 2010. vol. 10 (in Hungarian)

2003-2009 Franciscan High School of Szentendre, Hungary

Working and teaching experience

Consultancy:

Analysis on government security market for Hungarian State Treasury (2019)

Teaching at CEU:

Mathematics and Advanced Excel Pre-session in Finance (MS)
Mathematical Methods for Economists (MA – Teaching Assistant)
Data Analysis (MA – Teaching Assistant)

Hungarian Government Debt Management Agency:

2013 - 2016: Expert Economic Analyst, I was responsible for periodical reports of the government security market and developing new methodologies for analysing and forecasting the Hungarian government yield curve. Furthermore I have contributed in the development of the new portfolio model.

2011. Sept - Oct: Intern, I was analysing the Hungarian pension systems and its possible effects on the Hungarian government security market.

---

[1]Budapest University of Technology and Economics
[2] Paper of Economics Department - Budapest University of Technology and Economics

Publications

Modelling with Discretized Ordered Choice Covariates, - Felix Chan, Ágoston Reguly and László Mátyás – CEU Working Papers

Constructing Hungarian Zero-Coupon Yield Curve Models, Using Global Optimalization Methods - Ágoston Reguly - National Scientific Students' Association Conference 2015, (in Hungarian)

Forecasting the Hungarian Nelson-Siegel Yield Curve with Mixed Factor Model - Ágoston Reguly - Conference Paper: Hungarian Society of Economist Yearly Conference 2014, December 19. (in Hungarian)

Happiness of Economic Man – Katalin Martinás, Zsolt Gilányi, Veronika Poór, Ágoston Reguly – The Happiness Compass, Chapter 19 Nova Science Publishers, 2014, eds: Francesco Sarracino

Reappraisal of Rational Choice Theory – Katalin Martinás, Ágoston Reguly - Interdisciplinary Description of Complex Systems (INDECS), 11(1), 2013

Behavioral models of pension systems, part I. and II. - Ágoston Reguly - Economists' Forum[3], 2012. February and 2013. April (in Hungarian)

Inherent problems of pension systems - Ágoston Reguly - Masters and Followers[4], 2012. vol. 2., also published in Forum Scientiarum Oeconomicarum, 2011. vol. 14. (in Hungarian)

Awards and Scholarships

Award for Advanced Doctoral Studies, 2019 CEU's rector award for outstanding Ph.D. students

Pro Scientia Golden Medal, 2013 academic award for young scholars, given at the Hungarian Academy of Sciences.

National Scientific Students' Association Conference Awards (OTDK)

2015 1st Prize in economics section

2013 3rd Prize in economics section

2011 1st Prize in economics section

2011 Award of the Hungarian Economic Review

2011 Short listed for the best presentation

University Scientific Students' Association Conference Awards

2014 Academic award of Rector Magnificus

2014 1st Prize in economics section

2014 1st Prize in finance section, selected for National Scientific Students' Association Conference

2011 Memorial award of Heller Farkas by Heller Farkas Foundation

2011 1st Prize, in economics section, selected for National Scientific Students' Association Conference

2010 Award of Pro Progressio Fundation for enhancing young scholars

2010 1st Prize, in economics section, selected for National Scientific Students' Association Conference

---

[3]Közgazdász Fórum: Monthly Hungarian Scientific Journal

[4] Heller Farkas Foundation – Budapest University of Technology and Economics

Other Awards:

2013 Economist's Forum's Young Scientist Award for the best article of the year

2013 Felkai András Memorial Scholarship for support training of young talents

2013 Outstanding students' award at the Budapest University of Technology and Economics

2012 & 2013 Special Extended Scholarship of Economy and Social Sciences Faculty of Budapest University of Technology and Economics

2012 Hungarian Republic Fellowship (József Nádor)

Skills

English: TOEFL ibt: 104

B2 certificate, general (2008) and economics specific (2011)

German: B2 certificate, general, 2014

IT skills:

Proficient: MatLab, R, Microsoft Office programs

Advanced: Python

Intermediate: Stata, Eviews, SPSS, Mathematica

Driving license: A and B categories

Hobbies:

I have been sailing for fourteen years, and achieved 1st award in the National Competition of Jolle 25 class in 2007, 2009 and 2010.

Recently I have turned to mountaineering and rock climbing.